SATURDAY, JANUARY 15, 1898

The predictions by the Democratic press that the Republican party in Ohio will be rent by factions as a result of the election of Hanna is as far wide of the mark as the confident assertions by the same press that Hanna would not be elected.

The "better element" of the Republican party in Ohio, as is usual, allied itself with the Democrats to accomplish its purpose. An alliance of Republican bolters and Democrats under the combined leadership of Chas. Kurtz and Allen O. Myers, was what the people in Chicago would call a "cooker."

Among the amenities of current politics may be mentioned the claim of the Louisville Dispatch that its opposition to Sheriff Pfanz is purely a matter of principle, and the spectacle of Allen O. Myers, of Cincinnati, in the act of being horrified at the alleged iniquity attending the recent senatorial election at Columbus, Ohio.

It is very probable that the alleged conspiracy of Boss Croker to bury Bryan and Bryanism and the Chicago platform in the Democratic graveyard, will give a pronounced impetus to Populism. Bryan was and is a Populist and if defeated for the Democratic nomination, he can fall back on the Populist party and still make things interesting.

The rumor that comes from Frankfort to the effect that the Hon. L. K. Taylor is to be supplied with a place on the next Democratic state ticket, in return for his refraining from being a Populist candidate for Congress this year, of course as the state election is nearly two years off and the Congressional election comes this year, the promise can safely be made by the Democrats.

Two facts that, twenty-three years and a half of cotton industry in this city, not to mention the thousands of bales that pass directly by the city by water, is an eloquent argument for the establishment in Paducah of a cotton factory. But as the Six has said before, other towns are looking for these factories and are getting them, not because they offer better advantage than Paducah, but because they advertise what they can offer more widely.

Now that the senatorial struggle in Ohio is over, it would not be amiss for Republicans to bear in mind the character of the opposition to Senator Hanna. Of the sixty-five Democrats all of whom voted against Senator Hanna, each and every one was an advocate of free silver. Of the seven Republicans who refused to vote for Senator Hanna, all, with the possible exception of two, pledged themselves, when nominated, to vote for Hanna and were thus instructed by their nominating conventions. Furthermore most of these latter were tainted with the free silver of such opposition is a proof of national disunion in the party.

The resolution of Senator Hear presented to the senate yesterday to submit to the various state legislatures an amendment to the constitution making the 10th day of April the date for the expiration of the terms of office of the president, the vice-president, the senators and the representatives instead of March 4, is a most wise proposition, and one which would undoubtedly be adopted should the legislature get a chance to vote on it. There is no more auspicious time in the whole year to hold the inauguration ceremonies than the fourth of March, while it may be said with equal truth that the latter part of April is the most charming season of the year in Washington.

TAKE ADVERTISING. A St. Paul correspondent of The National Journal tells how that good town was "worked" by a smooth faker with the old threadbare hotel register advertising scheme. The correspondent describes the running of the trick as follows:

"The scheme was an ingenious young man of good address who, having secured a list of names of wealthy and distinguished business men, he rented a house, had a telephone office fitted with a telephone, had a charming woman whom he called his wife, of the bronzette style of beauty, who was also dashing. LA BELLE PARK

To Have a New Theatre This Season.

The Lake Being Doubled In Area Other Improvements.

The Paducah Street Railway company has decided to rebuild its theater in LaBelle park, and make it a spacious, convenient, and up-to-date play house in every particular.

Mr. Stewart has begun enlarging the lake in the northeast corner of the park, and by spring it will be extended from its old margin to the Buckner road.

NINETEEN OUT

The Number of Lights That Didn't Burn.

New Quality of Carbon Tested Last Night.

Last night a new kind of carbon was tested in the electric lights, but judging from results, it is inferior to the kind heretofore used.

The "light book" in the marshal's office showed that nineteen lamps in various parts of the city were last night out for more or less time.

There has for sometime been some difficulty in the use of carbon, the light's burning out on long winter nights before daylight.

SOON SUGGUMBED.

Death of Mrs. Albright at the City Hospital.

Mrs. Albert Albright, who came down the Ohio with her husband on a steamboat, and was found in a critical condition on the boat yesterday and ordered to the city hospital, died this morning of dropsy at that institution.

She had been ill for some time and the boat was in a sinking condition when she was discovered. Her husband was busily engaged trying to keep the boat from sinking.

The remains of the deceased will be interred in potter's field.

WEST END FLOODED.

The Street Inspector Sent to Drain the Water.

As a result of last night's rain, a large area of streets, sidewalks, vacant lots and residence yards were submerged this morning.

Mayor Lang sent Street Inspector Ueberback out, and found that the occasion of the inundation was near Jefferson street and Fountain.

He had it cleaned out, excavating deep skirts, barrel, ditches, tinware, grass, planks, and other things. The water is now about gone.
